Wizards

마법사 (魔法師)

"A sea of creatures wrapped in power"

Their forces are superior to all other species. The element of the wizard will vary depending on the individual's talent, some wizards can even perform magic without a catalyst or weapon. There are those who have completely mastered magic and these wizards can stop their bodies from aging past adulthood, although they are not immortal.

If the wizard longs to live and not die, they will have to obtain a body (usually a human body since their bodies are also human). But, even if they do this transfer, they will only buy themselves an extra 100 years or so.
